Godfellas

When the Planet Express ship is attacked by space pirates, Bender, sleeping in a torpedo tube, gets launched into space. The crew goes home, and search the stars to find Bender to no avail. Fry ultimately turns to a carnival fortune telling machine (first appeared in episode 2ACV18 The Honking) who tells him to search for a monestary in the mountains where a few monks are using the world's most powerful radio telescope to look for God. Meanwhile, Bender speeds through an asteroid field and accidentally accumulates a microscopic civilization on his stomach, who declare him God, and worship him despite his constant inability to provide for their needs.

The 30% Iron Chef

Bender attempts to become a chef, and is quickly rejected by the Planet Express crew. He then turns to the chef that inspired him, Elzar, who also rejects him. Bender soon makes friends with some space hobos and, coincidently, one of them is Helmut Spragel, formerly the world's greatest chef. Helmut takes Bender under his wing and trains him to be a master chef by giving him a secret weapona crystal vile containing "the pure essence of flavor". A now confident Bender challenges Elzar to a competition in the televised kitchen coliseum known as the Iron Cook Show.

This is the second time Fry sings "Walkin' on Sunshine". The first time was when he washed Kiff in episode 2ACV17 War is the H-Word.

Where No Fan Has Gone Before

After learning that the series was banned from Earth in the 23rd century (world leaders thought the Star Trek "movement" too threatening), Fry determines to retrieve episode tapes that were sent to a forbidden planet. "The world needs Star Trek to give people hope for the future," Fry declares. "But," replies Leela, "it's set 800 years in the past!" Still, they proceed to Omega 3, where Fry has a trivia showdown with someone claiming to be the ultimate Trekker.

Dr. McCoy never speaks in this episode. One would have to wonder why he was included considering that DeForest Kelley had died one year before.

Guest starts: William Shatner, Leonard Nimoy, George Takei, Walter Koenig, Nichelle Nichols, and Jonathan Frakes as themselves.
